SMALL ADVTS. WEEK DAYS

VOLUME XLVI. SUNDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1886—TWENTY-FOUR PAGES. PRICE [illegible]

A CLOAK SCARE

The manufacturers of Winter Cloaks are thoroughly SCARED to commence of the unusually warm weather we have had during October all over the country. The large cut that Winter cloaks have not opened as freely as expected and stocks of manufacturers remain heavy. Accordingly during the last few weeks This, in connection with the tight money market, has forced many of the Eastern manufacturers to realize cash at ANY PRICE!

In order to meet obligations. Fortunately for our patrons the

Bee-Hive

has a position to take advantage of this great opportunity. Our stock was small and we have lately purchased our $25,000!

worth of

Jackets, Wraps, Plush Cloaks, Cloth Newmarkets, Children's Cloaks, Misses' Cloaks,

AT FULLY ONE-THIRD LESS than the prices asked at the beginning of the season. Read carefully what the Bee-Hive offers and bear in mind that our space below are only a few sample quotations. It would take a full page of The Tribune to enumerate all the different styles we have in stock.

Our new Supplementary Fashion Plate, with the latest representations of

is now ready for distribution. The sheet contains the latest practical styles as now shown in

London, Paris, Berlin, and New York

At the present time, selected mostly by our Mr. Pixley while in Europe, and is not to be confounded with the so-called Fashion Catalogues issued by the Dry-Goods House in August and September, and which are mostly a rehash of last season's styles and always misleading. The shapes we show at present are now actually worn by the fashionable world, and we will be pleased to send same, free of charge, to any address.

Remember this applies only to Cloaks, Wraps, and Suit Garments, as we do not issue a Suit Catalogue at the Fair.

Will Offer This Week

Sealskin Garments and Fashionable FURS

Of Every Description.

Robes, Mats, Caps, Gloves, Etc.

It is perhaps best that the exact time the public be informed that we shall be in position to offer FURS at very much LOWER PRICES than we made and sold as a profit for the London Store could be sold at a profit for this. We don't sell them. Sealskin Sacques can be sold at a profit for Boys. We don't sell them. Copper Shawl Seal Sacques can be sold at a profit for Boys. We don't sell them. We don't sell any of the above-mentioned class of fashion Garments, for the reason that they don't make well or give satisfaction. They cost $225; some of the edges, and most look exceedingly shabby. Every such garment sold by our house will prove an injury to the reputation. We don't expect to sell every one. All cannot afford to buy good, reliable Furs. But people who can afford to pay for good goods and better find where only reliable Furs are sold. We make a specialty of the finer qualities of Furs, and can afford to sell that class of goods at lower prices than any house that has to work high and low grade Furs. We sell reliable Furs and by liberal business methods for Busy Buyers, cut down bought, long Sacques, Sacks to Sizes, Sacques and Cloaks, Furs, Rugs, and Furs, according to length and best measure.

We make over garments. Men's Fur and Fur-lined Coats. Orders for these should be given early.

IN GENERAL.

The meeting of the building contractors held last night at the Grand Pacific hotel was adjourned without any definite action being taken.

The court of inquiry into the Col. Daniel Cowles' case resumed yesterday afternoon at the usual hour, and several witnesses were examined.

Jack Boyle, who, City Hall has it, killed John Chase with a blow of his fist, was sent to the county jail for thirty days and a $200 fine by Judge Brentano yesterday.

Henry Sparks, one of the victims of the explosion at the American Powder Company's mill, Kensington, died at the county hospital Friday night.

Conrad Koch, the seventh schoolgirl who has been taken from Burke, 21 years old, has, it is said, now left the Kinsley South reservation. She, it is said, has gone to Denver and the authorities have given up the search for her.

The last issues of the Philanthropist for the present year will appear on a light buff paper, this change being made in order to economize. The object of the change is to save the Society $1,000 in postage.

Quite unusual at the South Park station for Thursday is to have men and women hanging in the corridor waiting to get bail to many persons in for the most petty complaints. Seventy-seven persons were released on bail on that day.

The delegations entertained on Thursday by Dr. Gunsaulus, Central Music Hall, was as follows: Illinois, 27 (1 c. d., 27 t. c. d., 27 t. c. d., 27 t.

THE TALK IN WASHINGTON

GEN. BLACK'S RESIGNATION AS HEAD PENSION BUREAU.

Story of the Election for Which Gen. Sherman Campaigned—Public Opposition to Further the Interests of Democratic Congressmen—Members Who Propose the Postal Subsidy—Gen. Hawley Says the Silver Agitation Has Seriously Affected Business—A Hard Situation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 23.—[Special.]—Among the causes of Congress Democratic Members manifest no disposition to hurry to reach their homes to vote for Cleveland electors, but seem to prefer to remain here and attend to the business of the session. Many of them are of the opinion that the chances of a second session are more than even, and that the Democratic majority will be increased in the next House. Others think that the Democrats will lose a few members, but not enough to affect the organization. Mr. Holman, under the authority of his name, has brought upon himself a storm of public criticism and ridicule for his action in the Indiana election. He has been charged with using the influence of his office as Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations to secure the election of Democratic Congressmen, and to defeat Mr. Gibson, the Republican candidate. Mr. Holman, it is said, has been in the habit of writing letters to the Democratic leaders in Indiana, and has exerted himself to the utmost to secure the election of Democratic Congressmen. He has also been charged with using the influence of his office as Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations to secure the election of Democratic Congressmen, but this is an unfounded charge, as Mr. Holman has not exerted himself in any way to secure the election of Democratic Congressmen, but has confined his efforts to securing the election of Democratic Congressmen who are members of the Committee on Appropriations. Mr. Holman's action in this matter has been severely criticised by Democratic leaders, and it is said that he has made many enemies by his action. The President, however, is "not in politics" this year, and cannot be induced to do or say anything which will be construed into an effort to influence the election. Mr. Holman, it is said, has been in the habit of writing letters to Democratic Congressmen, but this is no more than many other Democratic Congressmen have done, and it was not intended that any political significance should be attached to the letters
